We are spiritually whole beings made of creative energies, light and wisdom, and yet many of us don't understand this until we have an experience of sacred art. Sacred art is any art that connects to your spirit and the most powerful is the mandala.

By creating your own mandala you create a unification of your pure energies, but most importantly it helps you focus and manifest your desires and intentions.

The key is to discover your energies by applying ancient principles, such as those offered through Geomancy/Feng Shui and then combining them with the true Da Vinci code, often called the Golden Mean.

This is what Brisbane-based artist, Lesley Crossingham produces in her unique personal art pieces and offers in her workshops centred on spiritual self-expression. Most importantly, Lesley has joined with Belgian-born Roseline Deleu, a professional geomancer and Feng Shui master who assists you to connect spiritually and intuitively to universal chi energy. Together, in an experimental workshop, they offer you an opportunity to step into this powerful and transformative experience.
