Roseline Deleu hosted her 7th Annual FENG SHUI Conference

"2008, year of New Beginnings."

With their different topics and personalities, the speakers offered a mind opening and various facets on metaphysics and Feng Shui related topics: from Space Clearing with Wini to Rituals with Roseline, hearing about the Devas & Spirit of the Land from Alanna Moore to experiencing on-the-spot some of the Unseen Energies with Jason McDonald!

For many it was their first experience to meet people who regularly connect with Spirits. Amongst the speakers many are linked with the Source Energy, feel the spirits, hear or translate the messages some even see them. What a privilege! What a skill! What an experience!

Some of the participants are now ready to listen more to their inner self, their intuition; they embrace their newly discovered mind-power and begin to manifest more and more of their personal dreams combining now their understanding and influence of their thoughts, words and action while aligning them with their Feng Shui change inside their home.

Each year, different speakers, different topics. We hope to see you again for the 8th re-vamped event in 2009!

Roseline Deleu

A Collage again... What about Yours?

Over the past years, I have had so many experiences with my personal intuitive collages that I keep enjoying creating them regularly. Many of you have followed its recipe in my 2nd edition of 'Your First Easy Steps to Feng Shui' book and have had amazing experiences too.

Life is at an exciting turning point for me now... so, of course, I decided to make a Feng Shui intuitive collage again. In there appear a big swirl of wind and a huge wave of water (does this remind you of something, Feng=Wind, Shui=Water)? So, I promised myself to go with the flow, surf the wave and follow the wind... but I can tell you they are both very Yang (active) and 2009 is coming up as a very important year in my life.

Now is time for you too! Prepare your positive affirmations (use the present tense and TO BE, FEEL, ENJOY etc. rather than TO HAVE). Then, at the back of your board, sign under your affirma-tions as you promise these to yourself. Intuitively, open one magazine once only while repeating your affirmations as you do this! Put the magazine back in place and repeat this sequence with the other ones to fill you board. See symbols appearing in your life in the next 9 weeks.

All my workshops happen worldwide; contact me ASAP to organise one near you. Wishing you a great Christmas and a wonderful 2009 year filled with love, success, abundance and happiness.

Life Changing Experiences

Roseline Deleu

I am very excited to announce to you that I have been contacted by an agent who is now promoting my speaking engagements mainly in Australia and probably worldwide in the future too.

These last 11 years of living in Australia, have literally transformed my life. Who I was 11 years ago is no-where near who I am today. What about you? Are you the same person that 10 years ago, than 3 years ago, than 6 months ago?

I recon that I have been moving over 16 times here and each move has helped me de-clutter of course... but also has shown me many facets of living my Feng Shui passion on a daily basis.

To me, life is a great adventure and changes occur— we can find some of them challenging and some others very exciting.

Can I inspire you and encourage you to get out of your comfort zone?

In 2009 do ONE thing per week that you have never done before.

Looking forward to hearing from you soon with feedback of your Feng Shui experiences!

I am available for speaking and training opportunities in your area, simply email me roseline@fengshuisteps.com or contact me on 0412 717 454— international +61 412 717 454 and I will forward this to my agent.

Australian Wild Life Wisdom Cards

Susan &amp; Trevor O'Sullivan

Since I was a child, I have always liked to look at signs and messages... slowly but surely I started to decipher The Code, The Language.

Sometimes, the Universe kindly sends us some of his signs of spiritual growth through nature's very special messengers: the animal kingdom. Today, if you see a spider, its medicine and its explanation below will resonate with what you go through your life at this very moment.

See the animal 3 times in the same day, your growth will be reinforced.

For those of you who simply 'love' cards, I highly recommended the O'Sullivan set of "Australian Wild Life Animal" cards that will inspire you everyday.

Roseline Deleu

Even though he has many talents, there are few that warm to spiders' charm.

Spider really does have eyes in the back of his head, always vigilant patiently awaiting his prey. He is a talented weaver which is clearly displayed as the sun rises, his masterful work glistens with dew drops balanced delicately on each thread like a majestic chandelier.

As an infant, Spider can literally travel through the air. He produces a thread of silken web from his abdomen that will carry him on the breeze to his next destination. He is also the master of coordination with his legs numbering eight; even the infant man has trouble mastering only two.

When Spider snares a victim in his web, he stores and eats it at a later date by intricately embalming the corpse in a cocoon of silken thread. His talent would make any Egyptian Pharaoh proud. Man has attempted to reproduce the thread of Spider to no avail; we cannot match its strength and elasticity.

If Spider has come to your hand today he wishes to draw your attention to the cause of his sadness. "There are few that can match neither my talents nor my gifts. Despite this, I seldom hear a word of praise" says Spider. This aspect of Spider medicine brings your attention to the important need for praise, for a pat on the back to acknowledge how far you have travelled on your journey so far.

Spider also says "There are many that do not take the time to look beyond my appearance to see where my heart lies. There are those that judge me for how I look and my medicine tells you now that my journey is not so different to your human ride."

"The smallest of praise can have the most profound effect" hints Spider. "Man is quick to judge appearance first. In fact my end upon this earth walk often stems from that judgement and not on the beauty that lies within me."

Spider says "Take the time to look at me for who I really am."

Perhaps it is time to take note of areas of your life where you are either judged or judging. "If you have been snared in my web today I have come to counsel you in the ways of acceptance and forgiveness."

The heart of Spider medicine calls to mankind "Bare no grudge for the unconscious acts bestowed upon you in the name of fear. Then allow others to be who they are before judgement is passed upon them. To judge another is to miss out on the potential they offer you to learn."

Perhaps it is time to offer your understanding to those you may have previously judged as different or strange. When you master acceptance you radiate love and compassion, your inner beauty shines when you look with your heart and not just your eyes.

Spider also asks you to observe times when you may have been influenced by another's judgement of someone you may not have even met, or an experience you have not yet had. Spider's advises you "Make your own conscious decision based on how your heart responds to your fellow man, not how someone else responds. The wisdom I share with you will help to light the candle of conscious action within your being. Draw on my dreaming to help you untangle your web of beliefs based on your past. Call upon the power of my eight legs to take away the web of prejudices and bias." Perhaps it is time to begin the process of letting go negative conditioning that holds you trapped in the web of your past. "Become free," says Spider. "Find your truth and build your new belief system based on your experience in the now, not your past influences."

Spiders' eight legs represent the energies of direction and difference. Four of his legs offer you the energy of the four directions, north, south, east and west. The second four represent the different races of this earth, white, black, yellow, and red. But it is the body that unites them all.

"My legs join my body and I am united as one" he observes. To attack others is to cut off the energy of one's own limbs. We are all one in the Creators eyes, united by his body. We are but the limbs of direction and difference. Whether you are the one being judged or the judge, it is in your heart not your eyes that you will find acceptance. When you learn to accept yourself, your differences, your faults, your weaknesses and your mistakes, then you will always accept the differences, faults, weaknesses and mistakes of others. Accept yourself with love and radiate to all that you encounter on your new enlightened path.

The Art of Clearing Spaces

their energy. This includes the spaces that we occupy. These spaces are extensions of us so it makes sense to regularly cleanse these along with ourselves regularly.

Crystals

If you already love using these gifts from the earth then include them in your ceremony and place them around the space wherever you feel they need to be.

Space clearing would be the mystical arm of feng shui. It is working with the subtle energies of a place. Your home, office or land. It is the art of harmonizing the space. You would engage in space clearing because something just doesn't feel quite right or because you want to maintain the feeling you have.

Typically you would feel the need to lighten things up after having guests to stay, during and after nursing someone with an illness. Moving into a new house. Clearing the air after some arguments, and many more reasons. You would use your intuition and just know you need to do it.

This is the beginning of tuning in to your environment, intuiting that something may not feel quite right. Clearing the energy is a good place to start. If the feeling persists after cleansing then at least you can rule out certain things and look to other possibilities such as geopathic energies with the land, as an example.

Cultures all over the world have engaged in this practice since day dot. We are thankfully seeing the return of this ancient art, as people are more open to exploring

Some of the ways we can do this include:

Prayer

The power of prayer is undeniable. Make a prayer that you can say that blesses the space and those who occupy it as you walk from room to room. It is important to be in the space of love as you do this. Imagine the energy/intention of your words pouring through the space and transmuting any lower energy into high vibrating loving energy.

Smudging

Can be used in conjunction with prayer. Fill the space with the smouldering herb smoke, perhaps using a feather to move it around. Sage, Cedar, Sweetgrass, Eucalyptus are all used by indigenous cultures to move unwanted energies on.

Incense

Is excellent to maintain the energies of a space by burning regularly between clearings.

Bells/Chant/Music

Sound has long been associated with enhancing and cleansing energies and can be utilized with the same action and intention as prayer.

Whatever tools you choose, the most important thing for you to remember is to allow your intuition or feelings to guide you and be clear in your intention of what it is you want to achieve. Try a few different ways and do what works for you, there is no right and wrong.

We ultimately have the greatest influence over our environment and the practice of good space clearing must always begin with us. Always start by checking your own energy. How do you feel? It's all about learning how we feel about ourselves and that flows into our environment. Get in touch with it. The more you do it, the more you will feel it. Good luck.

You are WATER 1

2009 is a very active year for you. Plenty of travels are on your agenda, being short or even long distance trips. You are on the go go go, nothing can stop you, you have regained your strength—better keep an eye on your energy levels and not over-do it; balance is important in your life this year: connect regularly with nature especially swimming in a salt water pool or in the ocean will invigorate you.

2009 will be an eye opener to you: are you a Giver or a Taker? Maybe it is time for a change, 2009 offers you the opportunity to learn to accept presents or maybe to start spoiling someone special this time.

For those in business, 2009 will see new clients appearing and new word of mouth recommendations.

I wish you a very Yang and inspiring 2009!

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: white, lots of shades of grey, silver, gold, jewels, glitter and bling (you can combine any of these with black).
- To slow you down softly: pastel pink, pastel orange, mushroom shades of light brown.

You are EARTH 2

Creation is The Word for 2009. New ideas are coming into your head... or for some of you, finally miracle happens: that long time hoped pregnancy is here!

Start 2009 with a Purification ritual, detox your body after the festive season and de-clutter clear your home for 9 consecutive days with music, smudge and prayers/intents. Get rid of unwanted clothes and stagnant clutter—definitely before 14th February 2009. Make the list of new ideas and add a date to bring them to life. Good connection with your children this year, communication will happen smoothly as you decided to give them more quality time and less presents!

Children are your future, so are you to your parents. It is a year for YOU to celebrate this!

Display regularly a fresh bunch of white flowers in your home.

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: deep pink, red combined with white, and/or shades of grey
- To slow you down softly: pastel green, turquoise, wooden jewelry

You are WOOD 3

You had enthusiasm and great ideas last year, but some of you seem now to slow down drastically. Why do you let your fears block you? This 2009 year is a time to reflect and go deeper within to allow a powerful growth. My master used to tell me “It is often when you think that nothing is happening that the universe is preparing big changes in its background for you”.

Think first before acting; start your year by writing a list with 2 columns: the positive and negative points to balance before taking any action.

2009 has a wonderful gift in stock: the opportunity to discover and connect (more) with your Spirit Guides and Angels!

Have you ever thought of getting a mentor? Choose this person in 2009 and meet with your mentor regularly to make big progress in your journey.

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: touches of reds combined with black or navy blue
- To slow you down softly: white, all shades of grey

You are WOOD 4

2009 has you right in the spot light. Wood 4 are this year in sector 9 symbolizing fire, it is a year filled with people focusing on you. Be aware that this can bring you compliments as much as recognition as you are in the lime light. Don't get upset with some of the comments that could hurt your ego, if this happens, step back and simply observe without letting this affect you too much. It is only when you can detach from judgment and critics that you are able to re-evaluate your focus and your values. Read the card about the Spider on page 3 of this newsletter.

A critic can be constructive after all!

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: black, navy blue, glass jewelry, sea shells and sea print patterns on fabric
- To slow you down softly: soft pastels

Roseline Deleu, Feng Shui Master, International Speaker & Author

You are EARTH 5

A new career, new job or a wide mind opener onto another life path... interesting potential for you this year. Don't let the Water muddy your Earth, this means if you are a 'softy' this year could see you all over the places (like a sand castle disappearing with the tide)... to make this a successful year, it is essential to put structure into place. On the other hand, if you are a type of Strong Earth 5 a little too stubborn at times or procrastinating a bit too much, this year will swipe you off your feet and will make you more flexible and able to finally see that, yes, indeed... there are other options that previously you would not have considered.

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: chocolate brown, beige, sometimes combined with white, grey and off white
- To slow you down softly: transparency

You are METAL 6

"Love is in the Air" a new relationship or are you putting your actual relationship into re-vamp? Your element is sitting into its feeding element this year. Whatever choice you make about your relationship will be the right one because you make this decision.

Observe and contemplate the balance and equilibrium of Love in your couple right now. Is it time to 'update' your love for each other and take time out for a special week-end away to reconnect.

Are you single? Then this year is very auspicious to meet a partner; start your year with the wish list of the person you would like to meet and next to it write what you have to offer. Is this balanced or are you expecting too much of the other one?

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: pink, touches of reds, salmon, coral, white, gold, silver, glitter, grey, charcoal and chocolate brown
- To slow you down softly: pastel purple, black

You are METAL 7

Last year you were challenged with your relationship, this year you will be honouring your past to move faster into your future. Reflect upon past relationships and family communication; learn from your lessons and see your projection based on what you are just integrating into your recent behaviour.

Forgive yourself of what has happened in the past; very often we try to forgive others but we hide our own guilt. Everything has happened for a reason in divine timing for the highest best of all.

Plant your roots in new soil and benefit from your assimilated life experiences.

A year of self-respect offering you lots of insights. You are perfect the way you are.

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: white, gold, silver, glitter, grey, charcoal and chocolate brown
- To slow you down softly: pastel colours

You are EARTH 8

Abba's favourites: "Money, Money, Money! Time to value yourself and put a price on your time. Too many of you have not understood the message of self value.

When your element sits in the Wealth sector of the magic grid, this means that Abundance is your lesson in 2009.

What could happen for you in 2009? Be positive to welcome : a pay rise, unexpected money coming your way. Be negative then you will reap: more expenses, losing money down the drains. Now it is your choice to act and reason positively.

Place an earthy symbol in the sector 4 of your house—for example: create a clay sculpture with positive intents and display it proudly.

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: red orange, yellow, pink
- To slow you down softly: white, light grey

You are FIRE 9

Retreat. Avoid moving house or travel extensively between Feb 09 and Jan 2010.

Make 2009 a year to ground yourself and meditate regularly. A Yin situation is often more powerful than being Yang.

Discover your hidden qualities within because next year they will be put into action!

Learn new ways of just being.

Be your best friend. Accept you the way you are and look forward to who you want to be.

Look yourself in the mirror daily and give you a little compliment each day.

Pamper yourself, you deserve it.

You are a wonderful being.

Auspicious colours and items to wear in 2009:

- To give you a boost: green, red, ochre, earthy tones
- To slow you down softly: black
